FootBridge Staffing Volunteers to Fight Cancer

Employees Participate in Jimmy Fund's First Annual 'Rally Against Cancer'

Andover, MA - April 11, 2006 - FootBridge Staffing was one of several local companies to participate in the Jimmy Fund's first annual 'Rally Against Cancer.' This event, which culminated on Red Sox Opening Day, encouraged employees to donate a minimum of $5 toward the cause, and in turn, they could wear apparel to work that displayed their Red Sox pride. The company that collected the most amount of money received a visit from the Red Sox outfielder, Number 7, Trot Nixon.

"The Jimmy Fund is an organization that FootBridge Staffing is proud to support," said Todd Springer, director of Client Development at FootBridge. "While we weren't the top money-maker for this event, our employees' willingness to participate demonstrates the true character and kindness of our team. We're very proud of them and honored to have been part of this program. We look forward to supporting the cause in the future."

Employees who participated in the program wore their game shirts and hats, and were treated to typical game day fare - peanuts, popcorn and crackerjacks!
